

We are respectful of others

Meet the vloggers

Amy and Ali have many reasons to be excited. Not only are they celebrating the birth of their second child but also the news that their real-life vlogging channel, 'What's up with the Archers', now has a staggering ten thousand subscribers.

Their vlog follows their day-to-day life in the outskirts of Birmingham with their one-year old, Bella, and Sooty the dog.

Amy commented: 'This is such a huge achievement for us and we'd really like to thank our loyal fan base for making the channel such a huge success.'